Imperial Munitorum Manual

Synopsis

This is a Warhammer 40,000 background book that resembles an artefact of the 41st millennium in tone. Customer Reviews

Every now and then a W40K novel mentions the manuals. Normally it is during a narration, where Readers see (or "hear") an officer's thoughts as s/he dwells on duties or regulations. But have you ever stopped to wonder exactly what was in those manuals? Better yet, did you ever wish you could actually have one of them? Here is your chance. This is the "revised edition of the first published 945.M41". It begins with a preface by Seward Rosencraz, Chancellor of the Estate Imperium, followed by a Logistical Officer's Chain of Command. The contents of this manual, in my own words, are as follow: Part One - History and procedures. Part Two - Regiments, Raising and Structure, Supply Needs, Shipping of Equipment for the Cadian 91st (Sentinels). Part Three - Requesting of Equipment. (This section even mentions "the wholesome and nutritious" victuals supplied.) Part Four - Care and Maintenance of Equipment, Unauthorized Modifications, Procedures and Punishments for Laxity in Maintenance. Part Five - Identification of the items for front line troopers. Part Six - Identification of the weapons for front line troopers. Part Seven - Identification of the items issued to support platoons and squads. Part Eight - Identification of the items issued to senior officers and specialist personnel. Part Nine - A selection of forms for the many and varied situations likely to arise and how to deal with them. Of course, no Imperial manual would be complete without some extra sections to inform troopers about famous people (a few paintings are illustrated), badges and insignia (each clearly shown and told why there are given to select heroes), and even the guidelines for calling in a fire mission.
